

Ghana, a country in West Africa with population of about 30.42 million and 16 regions is known for the Kente and Smock fabric/ fashion. There are nine major tribes in Ghana; Ashanti, Ewe, Mole-Dagbon, Fante, Ga-Adangbe, Guan, Dagomba and Hausa. Over 70% of Ghanians speak and understand Twi, which make it second most spoken language apart from English, their official language.

Kente fabric have different styles and designs, apart from Northern region that wear Smock designs. These fabrics come in different patterns and are sewn into different styles.
